

The Resurrection's church (or the Christ's church)

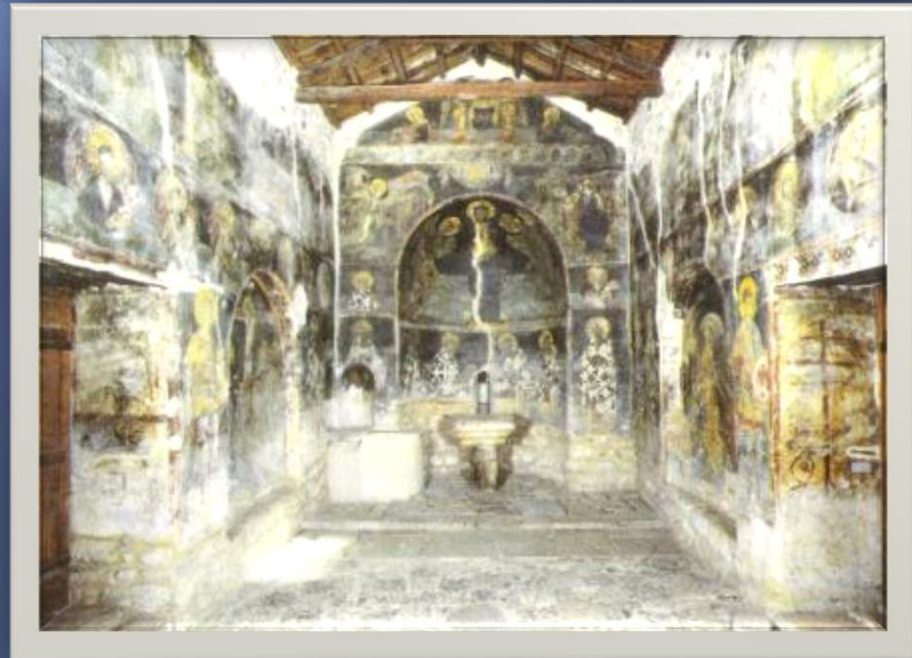

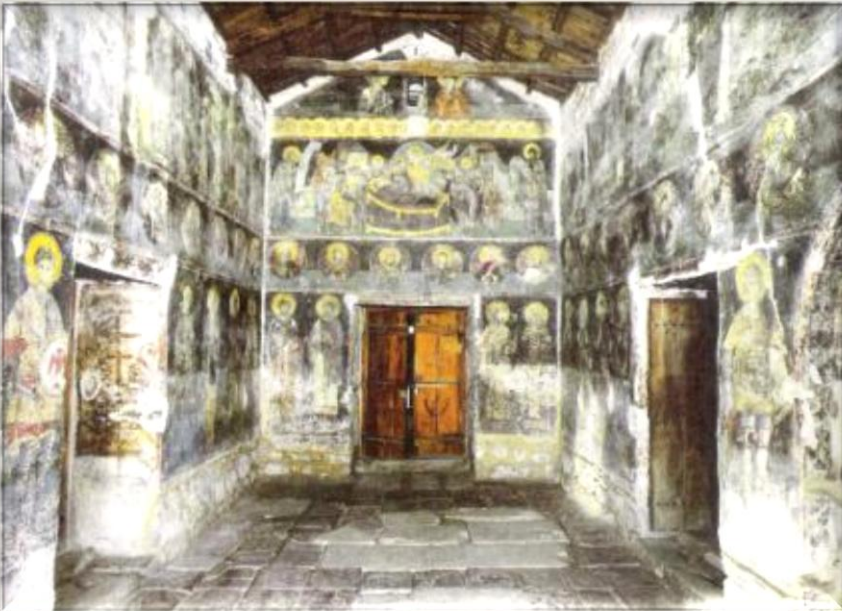

Filosoglou Bill & Giannopoulos Antony
6th Grade, 3rd Primary School, Veria, Greece
2010-2011

An old church

- ▣ This church was built in the early 14th century, during the Byzantine era. Initially, it was a family church.
- ▣ It is very small; it has only one room with three doors and a tiled roof.
- ▣ It had a closed forecourt which has been replaced by an open one after its erection in 1950'.
- ▣ There are many frescos inside and outside the church dated from 1314 to 1727.
- ▣ It is a Veria's heritage monument that everyone can visit.

▣ The church inside is pictured in three zones:

- A. The lower zone has two scenes from Jesus Christ's life and some saints' hagiographies (religious paintings).
- B. The middle zone has the four Evangelists, angels, saints and byzantine emperors.
- C. The upper zone, the most interesting, has scenes from the Jesus Christ's life.

In the niche it is pictured the Virgin Mary with two angels (1314/5)

The crucifixion (1314/5)

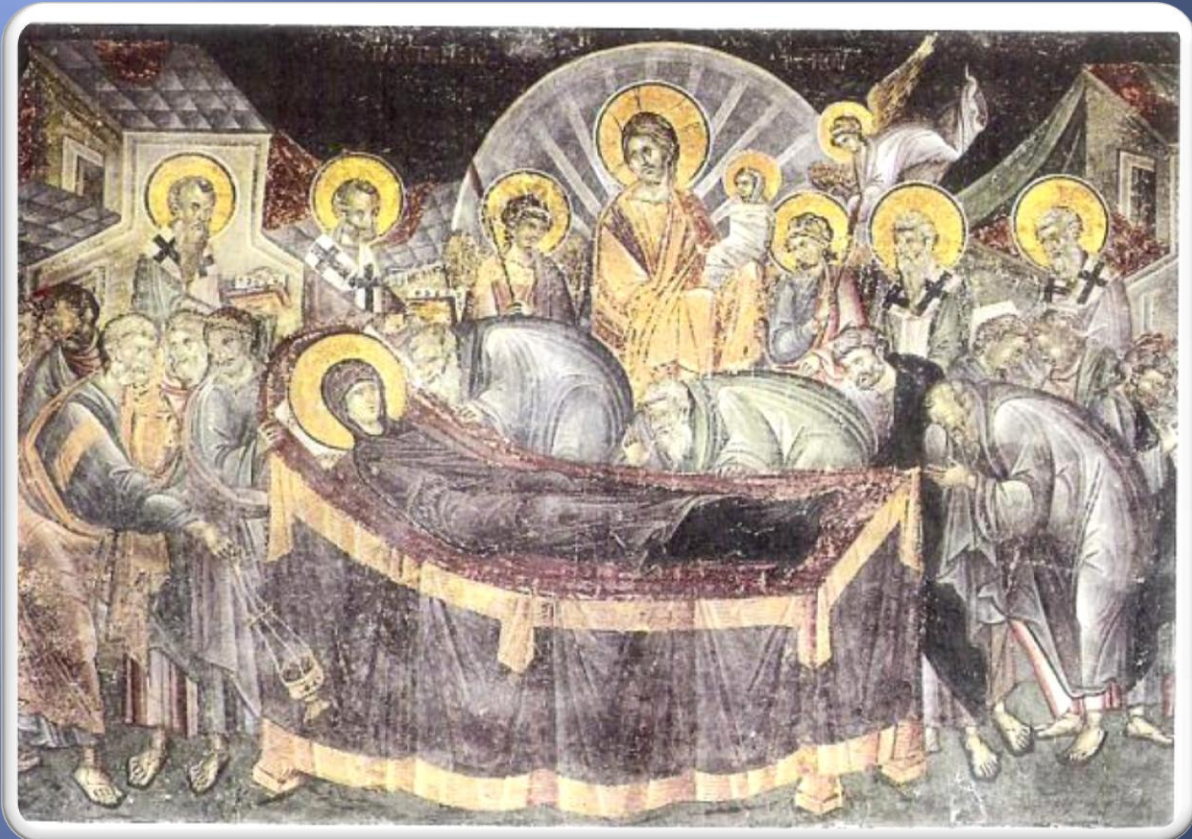

The Altar

The harrowing of hell
(1314/5)

The Assumption of the Virgin

The outside wall paintings

